PHILLIPS LYTLE LLP ATTORNEY SUSAN M. MARRIOTT CONTRIBUTES TO AMERICAN BAR ASSOCIATION YEAR IN REVIEW PUBLICATION

BUFFALO, NY – Susan M. Marriott, an attorney with Phillips Lytle LLP, one of the region's best known law firms, is a contributor to the American Bar Association Year in Review 2008 for the Section of Environment, Energy and Resources. Published in April, Ms. Marriott contributed to the section on Renewable Energy Resources.

The American Bar Association Section of Environment, Energy and Resources is the premier forum for lawyers working in areas related to environmental law, natural resources law and energy law.

At Phillips Lytle, Ms. Marriott concentrates her practice in the areas of environment and energy, telecommunications, and land use and zoning law, along with climate change policy. Her practice focuses, in particular, on environmental impact review pursuant to the State Environmental Quality Review Act and regulatory permitting pursuant to the Clean Air Act. A member of the New York State Wireless Association, Ms. Marriott earned her J.D., cum laude, from Pace University School of Law, an M.E.M. from Yale University of Forestry & Environmental Studies and a B.S. from Michigan State University.

Phillips Lytle LLP, one of the region's best known law firms, is celebrating its 175th anniversary in 2009. The firm has seven offices across New York State in Buffalo, Albany, Chautauqua, Garden City, New York City and Rochester. With the farthest geographic reach of any law firm in the state of New York, Phillips Lytle is well equipped to meet the needs of their clients.
