PHILLIPS LYTLE ATTORNEY KEVIN J. MULVEHILL TO PRESENT AT ROCHESTER BUSINESS ALLIANCE

ROCHESTER, NY – Kevin J. Mulvehill, an attorney with Phillips Lytle LLP, one of the region's best known law firms, will make a presentation at the Rochester Business Alliance on August 21. Titled "Controlling Blogging, Web Surfing, Cell Phones & Other Technology at Work," Mr. Mulvehill will discuss why employers need to establish acceptable technology use policies and properly communicate these policies to employees.

At Phillips Lytle, Mr. Mulvehill focuses his practice in the areas of labor and employment and commercial finance. A member of the New York State, Monroe County and American Bar Associations, he earned a B.S. from Cornell University, a degree in comparative law from Universite Robert Shuman, Strasbourg School of Law in France and a J.D. from University at Buffalo Law School. Mr. Mulvehill also serves on the board of directors for the Rochester Hearing & Speech Center.

Phillips Lytle LLP, one of the region's best known law firms, is celebrating its 175th anniversary in 2009. The firm has seven offices across New York State in Buffalo, Albany, Chautauqua, Garden City, New York City and Rochester. With the farthest geographic reach of any law firm in the state of New York, Phillips Lytle is well equipped to meet the needs of their clients.
