PHILLIPS LYTLE ATTORNEY KEITH M. BRANDOFINO PARTICIPATES IN DISTRESSED REAL ESTATE SUMMIT

NEW YORK, NY – Keith M. Brandofino, an attorney with Phillips Lytle LLP, one of the region's best known law firms, recently participated in the Distressed Real Estate Summit presented by Green Pearl Events. Mr. Brandofino served as a panelist for the session titled "Residential Real Estate Panel Discussion: Challenges & Opportunities – A Topline Review." Phillips Lytle was also a sponsor of the summit.

At Phillips Lytle, Mr. Brandofino concentrates his practice in the areas of banking and commercial litigation, including business disputes, restructuring of credit facilities and creditor's rights. He received his J.D. from Brooklyn Law School and his B.A. from New York University. Mr. Brandofino currently serves on the board of directors of The Cooley's Anemia Foundation.

Phillips Lytle LLP, one of the region's best known law firms, is celebrating its 175th anniversary in 2009. The firm has seven offices across New York State in Buffalo, Albany, Chautauqua, Garden City, New York City and Rochester. With the farthest geographic reach of any law firm in the state of New York, Phillips Lytle is well equipped to meet the needs of their clients.
